

The loss of a loved one is tough enough, but when Regina Richards experiences the loss of her spouse of many decades little does she expect the extraordinary sequence of events that would unfold. First there was the mysterious whistling that would come from out of nowhere, followed by the black patent leather dancing shoes that miraculously appear in her bedroom (she doesn't dance), and then came the visits from her dearly departed husband, who would explain what it was like on the other side. Surely this would be enough for anyone to begin to think they were losing it. Thank goodness Regina has a great sense of humor and a job where she can throw herself into her work. She will need both. But will it be enough? In the weeks and months that follow a series of seemingly coincidental and chance meetings all come together to provide an amazing and unexpected journey into the nature of love, life, death and grief, healing, and spirituality. Whether you call this a book about spiritual relationships, a humorous love story, or a spiritual romance, one thing for sure is that this charming story will touch your heart and lift your spirit.
